Believe Nobile And Crew Safe Near Supply Steamer

HOPE REVIVED BY REPORTS OF SEALER TODAY

Faint Radio Message Is Received by Captain Of City of Milan

SENDING RESCUERS WHEN FOG ABATES

Forced Landing may Have Been Made On Island Few Miles Away

Vladivostok, Soviet Russia, May 29.—Director Goloviznikov, of the radio station at the far eastern university, who was reported to have picked up an "SOS" call from the Italia, which was relayed and intercepted in San Francisco on Sunday, told International News Service this afternoon that he had never received any radio message from the missing balloon.

London, May 29.—Hope for the safety of Gen. Umberto Nobile and the 17 members of the crew of the lost dirigible Italia was revived at King's Bay today when the captain of the supply ship, Citta Di Milano, wirelessed that he had received information leading him to believe that the dirigible had made a forced landing at Amsterdam island, a Central News dispatch from the dirigible's base stated.

Amsterdam island is a few miles north of Magdalena bay where the Citta di Milano is hemmed in by the ice floes.

The captain of the supply ship wirelessed that he had been in communication with a Sealer which reported having received a message which apparently came from the dirigible.

The message received by the Sealer was very faint and great difficulty was encountered in deciphering it, but the message of the Citta Di Milano's captain strongly indicates that he believes the Italia made a safe landing at Amsterdam island.

He advised that a strong wind and a murky fog prevented the immediate dispatch of a searching party but he stated that he planned to land half of his crew as soon as possible.

Balloon Had Food

These men will then proceed northward over the ice on dog sleds in an attempt to reach Amsterdam island as soon as possible.

They will be accompanied by an experienced seal hunter who is familiar with the topography of the Polar region. He will guide them over the shortest possible route to the place where the Italia is believed by the supply ship's captain to have landed.

Fears for the safety of Gen. Umberto Nobile, commander of the lost dirigible, and his crew of 17, were somewhat allayed by the message.

The Italia carried sufficient food rations to keep the crew alive for more than a month. It also carried three sleds, a dozen pairs of skis and other equipment for braving the Arctic weather conditions.

It is thought possible that Nobile and some of his crew may have started southward over the ice in an attempt to get back to King's Bay.

The radio message from the Citta di Milano's captain did not reveal the time the Sealer received the message thought to be from the Italia.

WAR VETERAN IS GIVEN LIFE FOR SON'S MURDER

Valparaiso, Ind., May 29.—George Allen Chisholm, Canadian veteran of the World War, was to be taken to Michigan City today to begin a life sentence for the murder of his two little sons.

The state's demand for the electric chair was overruled by Judge Grant Chumpacker, who sentenced Chisholm following his plea of guilty.

Chisholm's confession, wherein he admitted having induced his boys to jump into the Indiana Harbor ship canal after tying iron weights to their bodies, was read in court.

The defense argued Chisholm's mind was disordered as a result of the shock.

Ray Dewan Killed As Train Hits Auto

Cleveland, May 29.—A man believed to be Ray L. Dewan, of Salem, was instantly killed here today, when the auto in which he was riding, stalled on the tracks of the New York Central railroad, and was struck by a train.

Jack Terrell, riding with Dewan, is in St. John's hospital here with serious injuries as a result of the crash. The auto was demolished.

Anthony Henahan, 3296 west Sixteenth st., engineer of the train, said that he saw the automobile, a new Pontiac coach with a dealer's license, D 999, race through the crossing between the gates.

"The car stalled on the westbound track, the one we were on," the engineer went on. "I pulled the whistle and set the brakes but we were going 60 miles an hour and could not stop."

The locomotive smashed into the car and carried it 300 feet down the track before the heavy train of cars could be stopped. Dewan was pinned in the wrecked car and Terrell was found wandering about in a dazed condition.

Dewan was in Cleveland this morning, Mrs. Dewan said, and it is probable that positive identification will be made this afternoon. No one was with him when he left here, and the man injured is thought to have been a Cleveland friend.

Dewan had operated the bus station here and is well known.

Balthes Re-elected President; Saxons Meet Ends Tonight

Mayer Phil G. Hiddleston welcomed the visiting delegates to the national convention of the Transylvania Saxons Friday night by presenting the society, through Mrs. Anna Schuster, president of the local society, a large key to the city.

Hiddleston gave the opening talk on the first night's program at the German hall with a short speech of welcome.

The expected 2,500 failed to arrive for the first day's program, it being estimated that only 1,400 attended the first day's convention activities. Twice that number were expected today.

Atty. H. L. McCarthy, Salem, congratulated the Saxons upon their advancement and progress, and traced the history of the Saxons back to pre-historic periods. He contrasted the Saxons and other races of their time illustrating how the Saxons had advanced so much quicker than other races, and became civilized earlier.

Rev. B. E. Rutzky, Salem pastor, traced the progress of the society in a speech. "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," Rev. George Schuster, Columbus, and John Balthes, Erie, national president of the society, were other speakers during the evening program.

Native songs were sung by the Harmonie choir of Alliance and the Salem Mannerchor. German marches were played by Finley's Melody band.

Balthes Is Re-Elected
At a business meeting of the society, in the hall during the afternoon, Balthes was re-elected president. (Continued on Page 4)

TAX REDUCTION BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Individual Not Benefited By Measure; Corporations' Rate Cut

Washington, May 29.—President Coolidge today signed the $222,495,000 tax reduction bill.

Corporations gained the chief benefit under the bill, with the corporation rate cut to 12 per cent.

A reduction of about $60,000,000 was effected through repeal of the automobile tax.

The president wrote his name on the bill shortly after 8 a. m. None was present with him.

Most of the reductions will not become effective until next January 1.

The reduction was close to the limit set by the administration. The bill was approved by Secretary of Treasury Mellon before the president affixed his signature.

The bill constituted a compromise before the senate and house, with the senate winning on most of the important points. The house passed a $780,000,000 reduction, while the senate cut the figure to $234,000,000.

No benefit will accrue to the small taxpayer under the new law, as the income tax brackets were not touched.

Passage of the bill in the senate resulted from a coalition of Republicans and insurgents. The latter agreed to support the administration's proposal in return for retention of the federal estate tax, which Mellon wanted repealed.

FATHER SLAIN BY HIS SON, 12

Parent Killed After He Beat Wife; Boy Sticks To His Stepmother

Detroit, May 29.—Twelve-year old Joseph Fiori, who shot and killed his father, Samuel, 33, well-to-do trucking contractor, is held in the juvenile detention home today while authorities decide what to do with him.

Enraged because his father had beaten his stepmother, Virginia, 27, the fifth grade school boy obtained a revolver and followed his father to the street and shot him.

"And I would do it again if he tried to harm my stepmother," Joseph declared according to the police.

Joseph's father recently bought his wife a new car and beat her because she had not changed tires on it as instructed earlier in the day.

After the shooting Joseph ran three miles to the home of his grandmother.

"I wanted to teach my dad not to hurt my mother," Joseph said. "He had hurt her before and I had promised mother I would protect her. Even though she isn't my real mother she has been awfully good to me."

Congressman Speaks Before Club Today

JAMES T. BEGG

Congressman Begg of Sandusky spoke at noon today at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club in the Elks home. Members of the Kiwanis club were guests of the Rotarians on this occasion. Begg is a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket.

COSTS OF STATE GOVERNMENT TOO HIGH SAYS BEGG

High Taxes Are Driving Business From Ohio, He Tells Rotarians

"Unless Ohio citizens do something to stop the rapidly mounting cost of government in our state, and the growing tax rate, business interests in Ohio will suffer a severe handicap in competition with other states," declared Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky in his address before the Rotary club at the Elks home today.

"Competition in business now is keener than it ever was before, and forcing the businessman to eliminate every single bit of waste there is in business," he said. "It is forcing combinations of business so as to eliminate the cost of overhead; that too at the expense of the small dealer."

"Whether or not this present tendency will be better for the United States in 20 years from now is questionable. However, it is here, and it is being forced by the same competition mentioned above."

"As Europe's economic condition recovers, the competition will become keener, because the standard of living of foreign countries, upon which depends the cost of commodities, is at least 300 per cent cheaper than it is in America. Hence, there is no lessening of the struggle for business in sight."

Reflected In Public Mind

"It is absolutely unthinkable to have private business doing everything she can to economize and eliminate waste, and let the cost of government in Ohio continue to run rampant like it has been in the last eight years. This same struggle for business that is now going on is reflected in the public mind in two ways."

"First, groups of individuals like the farmers are demanding the federal government to give them relief by the use of money out of the federal treasury which has been raised by general taxation."

"Second, it is reflected by the springing up in the public mind, demand that the government go into (Continued on Page 4)

Stoffer and Reardon Uncover Spot; Is Kept Secret

SOLUTION OF MYSTERY NEAR

Man and Girl Seen At Place; Believe It Was Beatrice

Salem police today took the biggest step forward in the solution of the Beatrice Rosenbaum mystery since the finding of the girl's dead body near Salem Sunday afternoon when they announced that they have definitely located the place where the girl was kept while being held prisoner previous to her death.

The police refused to disclose the identity of the place, but stated that it was within 10 miles of the spot where the girl was found.

Following up a tip received, Patrolmen Ralph Stoffer and William Reardon questioned the owner of the building, who told of seeing a man and a girl in his place several times.

This man whose identity is being kept secret, said that the girl continually was mumbling and asking the man, whom she called "Papa," for something to eat. The man spoke to her very roughly, telling her, "You've had all you're going to get."

Spend Day at Scene

Working on this clue, the Salem police hope to make some headway in the mystery, which is becoming more complex by the finding of several "clues" which may turn out to be mere rumors.

The patrolmen said after spending the entire day Monday at the ravine where the body was found, that they are satisfied that entrance was made into the woods from the Egypt rd, and not from the Painter rd. as first thought.

They base their theory on the finding of the girl's stockings and garters, which were found yesterday between the body and Egypt rd, by Patrolman Reardon.

The theory is also advanced that the stockings may have been placed there in order to make the impression that entrance had been made there, and that he had gone into the ravine by way of Painter rd. Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvater, after a thorough investigation is inclined toward the latter theory.

Certain of Kidnaping

Beatrice Rosenbaum was kidnaped. That is the definite theory that police have formed. All clues, though leading nowhere, point to that fact it was said today. The new clue, uncovered by the Salem investigators promises headway in the case. She died from starvation and exposure and because of this the new lead appears very important.

Harry Churchill of Salem formerly of Detroit against whom a manslaughter charge was filed by police to hold him in the county jail in connection with the case, is not the kidnaper, according to two Youngstown women who were taken to see him yesterday afternoon. However, authorities will question him again today.

Mrs. W. C. Van Gorder and Mrs. George E. Kelley, neighbors of the Rosenbaums after viewing the Lisbon prisoner last night said he was not the man they saw drive away from the Rosenbaum home with Beatrice, May 14.

Release Suspect

"He is out so far," said the Rosenbaum girl, "concerned." Police Chief J. J. McNicholas of Youngstown, said, "However, the man is still held in connection with that case."

One of the two men held in jail in Youngstown for questioning in connection with Beatrice's case was released. He was taken into custody yesterday, principally because he was once employed near the spot where the child's body was found, it was said.

Beatrice's funeral was held at 10 a. m. today, Dr. Max Brown, rabbi of a Youngstown synagogue, conducted the service.

Scouts Saw Man Saturday
Police were hunting today for a man seen at the abandoned mine, near the spot where the body was found, by a group of Salem Boy Scouts at 12:30 p. m. Saturday.

The man is reported to have been sneaking through the woods in a mysterious manner, very deliberate in his actions, and acting as if he was attempting to hide something by the boys.

He passed within 50 feet of a group of the boys, who were hidden behind a bush, hiding from another group of scouts. The boys were unconcerned. (Continued on Page 4)

THE DAY OF PEACE

On the Fourth of July it is easy to glorify war. Memorial Day is different. The two supplement each other.

One recalls the stirring memories of righteous and successful war; the other recalls grief and sadness inseparable from all wars. In these latter years, Memorial Day is more suited to the popular mood than Independence Day. We take our freedom for granted; and in view of the cost and comparative fruitlessness of this last great war we are, as a veteran expresses it, "sore on all wars."

Thus every recurrence of Memorial Day since the World War brings a new wave of peace talk. It is natural just now, especially, because of our government's leadership in a new, radical undertaking, to "outlaw war."

This is an ultimate ideal. All thinking men must realize that warfare is essentially foolish, unnecessary and wicked; that wars of aggression are intolerable, and that there should be peaceful substitutes for "wars of righteousness." If it is wicked for private citizens to kill each other, it is wicked for people grouped in nations to kill each other. If civilized man can outlaw and minimize murder among private citizens, he should be able to do the same thing among nations. But progress to that end is difficult and slow.

We still have our outlaws killing in private feuds. We may long have nations running amuck occasionally and killing for gain or vengeance. Peace, like freedom, "broadens slowly from precedent to precedent." Outlawing war probably requires close, complete international organization, with universal police force and authoritative world courts, modeled after those we have to control domestic crime. Manifestly the world is not yet ready for such drastic internationalism. We can move only step by step. So assured peace must wait.

COMMENCEMENT COSTS

Says a reporter who has been investigating the high cost of education in American high schools, graduation costs boys about $65 and girls about $50 apiece. The additional cost for son includes "prom" tickets which daughter does not have to buy. In some schools where the class dance comes out of the common class treasury, the two sums might be more nearly even, except, of course, in schools where daughter makes her own commencement dress while father has to buy son's new outfit.

The other items of expense include the class ring or pin, the school annual, the heavy exchange of photographs, the commencement invitations and cards to go with them, the tickets for fond relatives who attend the exercises, and flowers.

Possibly there are some foolish or needless items on the list, but we'd hate to be the reformer to point them out. Anyone who thinks back to his own high school commencement will at once realize what a serious, happy, exceedingly important business it is. Why shouldn't it be done right? And where could fifty or sixty dollars buy more happiness and satisfaction?

What Others Say

LEADING STRINGS FOR STATES
It is a rare session of congress that does not find in its hopper one or more measures designed to utilize the federal government's control of interstate commerce to coerce the states either into or out of activities over which the constitution gives to congress no jurisdiction.

A typical example has been the Hawes-Cooper bill, introduced at the present session. This measure is designed to prohibit the shipment of prison-made goods from one state into another state.

that they must not employ prisoners in the production of commodities. Obviously, all such matters are the business of the states themselves with each settling the question in its own way.

But a long time ago congressmen learned the trick of riding their interstate-commerce power around Robin Hood's barn, in order to do constitutionally things that the constitution itself intends shall not be done.

The question of whether the states shall put inmates of their penal institutions into competition with free labor, is, of course, an important one. But the fields where it should properly be fought out lie in the halls of 48 state legislatures, and not in the halls of congress.

The wisdom or unwisdom of such employment is not germane to the present discussion, which concerns the far more important question of whether congress shall go ahead usurping the powers of states in plain defiance of the spirit of the constitution.

Labor organizations favor a move to bar prison products out of interstate commerce. But labor organizations would scream to high heaven—and rightly—should the constitution be being scrapped outright, should some future "open shop" congress consider a bill designed to bar union made products out of interstate commerce.

Let's settle within the states the things that are the business of the states, and settle in congress things that are the business of the nation. If prisons should not produce commodities, let the states rule against it. But don't invite congress to establish a national guardianship—Minneapolis Journal.

BUNCOMBE

Down in Asheville, N. C., where the senate committee on campaign funds is spending a pleasant few days amid the mountains and the azaleas, witnesses with great unanimity pronounce either directly or inferentially the name of the county in which the city is situated when they are asked about the famous "ten million-dollar slush fund" of which Senator Heflin has been orating in the upper house of congress. And, for the benefit of any who may not be familiar with the local geography of North Carolina, we explain that the subdivision of which Asheville is the capital and is known as Buncombe county. Whether the name is invoked in order to characterize the committee proceedings or in order to characterize vapors of the "gentleman from Alabama" it is entirely applicable—Detroit Free Press.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, May 30

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE.

ACCORDING to the fairly negative lunar aspects for this day there may not be matters of great moment. There is some encouragement for new undertakings but at the same time the financial prospects seem precarious and there is danger for all projects of a speculative nature. Shun deception and fraud and safeguard the employment. Give some attention to the health.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of a rather hazardous year financially and as regards the employment. In new undertakings avoid all things of a speculative or uncertain nature and guard against deception or concealment. Care for the health, shunning excesses. A child born on this day should be given early instruction and practice in frugality and prudent handling of its substance. The tendency to snap judgments and too optimistic an outlook may prove ruinous.

The crowd moves aside for the man who makes a straight-line course for a given point.—John G. Ondaale.

For Thursday, May 31.

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE.

AN active day with affairs moving at a lively pace in commercial affiliations as well as in all that pertains to publishing, writings and promotion is presaged by the lunar aspect to Mercury, which governs buying and selling as well as all intellectual pursuits and writings of whatsoever nature. It is a good time to seek the renewal of contracts, but be not depressed by small setbacks or postponements.

Those whose birthday it is may have a fairly lively year, with new business and a renewal of contracts, but there may be slight disappointments. Trade as well as publishing, promotion and literary matters should be lively. A child born on this day should be versatile, shrewd and should succeed in business or in any contacts with literary activities.

The soul's road is determined by intention.—Anon.

If kidneys and heart fail to function as they should, there may be swelling of the ankles and legs. The eyelids, too, may be puffy and the fingers so enlarged that the rings cannot be removed. These symptoms are more commonly due to failure of proper kidney action than to anything else.

DR. COPELAND collects in the abdominal cavity, or the "peritoneal cavity," as the anatomists name it. Normally, this space holds nothing but coils of intestines, and there is just enough moisture to afford lubrication. But in dropsy there may be gallons of fluid in the cavity.

Even so marked and unmistakable a symptom as this is not regarded as a disease. It is not a disease in the true sense. Dropsy is the visible sign of some physical disturbance; rarely in the abdomen itself but usually in the liver, the heart or the kidneys.

The quantity of fluid may be so great as to stretch the skin of the abdomen. The wall is tight as a drum. In a case where there is so much fluid the cause is perfectly apparent. But when the quantity of fluid is only a quart or two, it will not be so easy to decide what is wrong.

To get rid of the accumulated fluid requires no serious procedure. A "trochar," a sharp pointed instrument enclosed in a hollow tube —is the simple instrument used. This may be thrust through the overlying tissues and the fluid drained off through the tube.

Of course this little operation does not cure anything. It serves merely to remove the pressure and the visible evidence of disability. The underlying cause must be determined and the really curative treatment must be directed towards its removal. Your doctor will decide whether heart, kidney, liver or some other organ is at fault. In most cases there will be found very scanty flow of urine. It would seem almost as if the fluid which should escape this way is dammed up in the body. If the kidneys are not seriously diseased the remedies which increase their action will do much to prevent the accumulation of fluid in the abdominal cavity.

Likewise, excessive sweating may carry off the fluid. Hot baths, electric light baths and other means of forcing the skin action may help the dropsy. Once more, however, it must be borne in mind that these measures are not corrective of the underlying fault—they merely remove its effects.

I hope I have said enough about dropsy to make it clear that there are many causes. No real cure can be looked for until the fundamental defect is remedied.

Dr. Hagerty Picks Flaws In Theories Of Judge Lindsay

Columbus, May 29.—That Judge Lindsay is basically wrong in his theory of "Companionate Marriage" is the opinion of Dr. James E. Hagerty, head of the department of sociology and former dean of the college of commerce and administration at Ohio State University.

"Judge Lindsay," Dr. Hagerty declares, "uses companionate marriage as a mask under which he delivers lectures on birth control. If Lindsay were to say that his lectures would be on birth control alone, it would be possible to count the members of his audience on your fingers."

The real definition of "Companionate Marriage" was not presented by Judge Lindsay, Professor Hagerty maintains. He gives the credit for this particular type of marriage to Professor McKnight of Barnard college, Columbia university, who says that the type is "the companionate state of lawful wedlock, entered into for the sole purpose of companionship and not with a view of children."

In regard to Judge Lindsay's belief that marriages should be made easier and that means for divorces and separations should also be made easier, Dr. Hagerty opines that the judge has made a serious mistake.

"If young people between the ages of 16 and 19 were to be allowed to enter into a state of companionate marriage, having no responsibility toward society or to themselves, and divorce and marriage were made simpler, many young people by the time they were 22 or 23 years of age would have married several times. At that age they have reached a point where they begin to consider a real marriage," Dr. Hagerty believes.

MAUBEUGE FALLS BEFORE FRENCH WRECKING CREW

Impregnable Fortress Is Attacked This Time Without Fighting

Washington, May 29.—One of France's "impregnable" fortresses—those massive fortifications surrounding the town of Maubeuge, between Paris and Brussels—again has been attacked this time in a wrecking process to make way for growing French industry.

The story of the gallant fighting around Maubeuge in the Franco-Prussian war and of the worthlessness of the great pile of cement and granite when the Germans swept through Belgium and northern France in 1914, is told in a bulletin issued by the National Geographic society.

"Maubeuge lies almost on a direct line between Paris and Brussels and is just three miles within the French border," the bulletin said. "It was long recognized as a strategic point at which to obstruct the advance of hostile forces, striking down from the north toward the French capital."

In the early days of the world war, it was the most important of military activities. The times produced Vauban, at once the world's master fortress-builder, and besieger. He constructed a chain of forts across northern France and considered Maubeuge one of the most important.

Vauban's most valuable legacy to military engineers who came after was the "entrenched camp"—a great central fortress ringed round with detached forts. The Franco-Prussian war of 1870 emphasized anew the importance of Maubeuge, and after the conflict France made of the place a striking example of the "entrenched camp."

At the beginning of the World war, it was thought that Maubeuge would stand like a rock. But the fortresses were built to combat gunpowder. The terrific detonations at Liege and Namur, where the huge German siege guns poured tons of high explosive on other "impregnable" forts, sounded the doom of all fortifications of this class.

Full Before Germans After the Belgium forts fell the retreat passed Maubeuge and left it like an island in the advancing German stream. With its 40,000 men Maubeuge held out for 11 days.

"Modern military engineers believe that they have developed a defensive system much more efficient than that of Vauban and his school," the bulletin said. "Mobility is the latest slogan. In the place of the fixed forts, the present day defender will pin his faith to great guns mounted on railway carriages, which can pour out high explosives from one location today and another tomorrow. This mobile system is used by the United States in some of its important coast defenses."

Maubeuge, with the destruction of the forts, becomes an open town and with a population of 20,000 lies in a great industrial region.

What's Imagination? Problem Bothers

Cleveland, May 29.—Dr. Bertha M. Luckey, chief of the local public school psychological clinic although she has made an intensive study of imagination declared that she has not yet discovered what it is.

"The problem is to discover just what imagination is," Dr. Luckey asserted. "When we find it we will need to find some way to train it."

"So far it would seem that education has contributed very little to imagination. Many of the greatest writers of creative literature had very little formal schooling. Thomas Edison never went to college."

"Imagination without order is merely fancy. But imagination that is directed, leads to progress."

"People who succeed in life are people with imagination."

FLYING BOAT TO CARRY 120 OVER ATLANTIC OCEAN

Rornier Making Greatest Ship to Compete With Boat Traffic

London, May 29.—The greatest flying boat in the world, capable of accommodating 120 persons, is now being built in the works of Herr Dornier, the famous German designer of aircraft.

Herr Dornier is visiting London giving lectures in connection with his mammoth plane.

"The fact is that air traffic today has not yet become serious," Herr Dornier told International News Service. "It is interesting, but it must be developed on the big scale if it is to compete properly with steamships and trains. My latest type is an attempt to recognize this."

Crew of Ten
"The crew will consist of nine or ten, headed by a commander, whose position will approximate to that occupied by the captain of a liner of the seas. There will be a pilot and a navigator, and the engines will be centrally controlled by a chief engineer with several mechanics."

"The pilot will have an indicator to show him how many engines are running and what horsepower is available, but on the chief engineer will devolve the duty of seeing to the maintenance of the correct number of revolutions, the temperatures, etc. His job will be to keep the engines going satisfactorily. My plane will have twelve motors, so that engine failure will be almost an impossibility."

"I do not agree that such an enormous structure will be too unwieldy to be safe. With its great power there should be no trouble in taking off or landing in the comfort of a harbor. With a big machine of this kind it is easy to make the hull very strong indeed, and this strength will be of importance in resisting of the great shocks encountered against the waves."

To South America
"As to the purpose of the machines I am now building on these lines, I would say that the probability of their being used on journeys across the South Atlantic to South America is greater than across the North Atlantic, because the weather conditions on the former are better. As a service of this kind is necessarily experimental, the object at the start would be to secure safety and efficiency by carrying mails and goods.

"But very quickly it should be possible to advance from that point to greater machines that will fly over the North Atlantic. The flying range of the machines now under construction will be about 2,200 miles, and the journey to South America should occupy about four days with intermediate stops before taking the hop across the South Atlantic."

MARION COUNTY RECORDER LEFT ACCOUNTS SHORT

Missing Official Accused In Examiners' Report. Tracy Reveals

Columbus, May 29.—That the office of the Marion county recorder "has been practically abandoned" and that Charles E. Smith, the missing official, was short $2,910.86 in his accounts were claims contained in a report made public here today by State Auditor Joseph Tracy.

The report covered a special examination of the Marion county recorder's office by State Examiners T. W. Jones and Allen G. Atwill. The examination dealt with the period from Sept. 27, 1926, to April 28, last, on which date, it was stated Smith disappeared.

"The office of Marion county recorder" has been practically abandoned, so far as the elected recorder (Smith) is concerned, as he left Marion on the night of April 28, and nothing has been heard of him since," the report of the examiners stated.

The examination disclosed, according to the report, that fees collected and unaccounted for totaled $2,910.86. A finding for this amount was made by the examiners against Smith and in favor of Marion county.

Findings for recovery, as registered in the examiner's report follow: "Recording instruments, etc., $10.22; omissions from cash book and failure to pay in known amounts, $3,926.52; interest on deferred payments at legal rate, $115.23; total $4,051.97; less cash in bank, $1,141.11, net amount due from Recorder Smith, $2,910.86."

When elected to his first term as Marion county recorder, on Nov. 4, 1924, Smith was said to be the youngest man ever elected to that office. He was re-elected Nov. 2, 1926.

The examiners said that Smith disappeared "without leaving any word of his intentions to any one, so far as we know, and no word has been heard from him to the present time."

BEGG'S ADDRESS

private business. This is best demonstrated by the recent actions in congress. Muscle Shoals, if the president signs the bill, will go into production of commodities formerly produced by private enterprise.

There would not have been this demand, had it not been for the increased cost of production and the keenness of competition.

"Where Will We Stop?"

"It is further illustrated by the action of the lower house of congress in voting to have the government of the United States spend hundreds of millions of dollars at Boulder dam for the purpose of producing power and light for communities.

"It ill behooves me to say that there is not a possible chance of either of these governmental ventures into private enterprise succeeding, but I can safely concede that if they do succeed, and if competition in private business continues as keen as it has been for the past couple years, that is only the beginning of the government's operation of private industry.

"The question logically follows: where will we stop? If private business cannot be trusted or forced to deal fairly with the public, and the public can only be treated fairly by the government's operation of private industry, then why not have the government go into the transportation, production of coal, steel, iron, and food products. In other words, you see the drift of the public mind, with the ultimate conclusion if we continue in the direction we are now traveling.

Insure Fair Treatment
"The first step, in my judgment, to overcome this tendency, because I believe this tendency entirely foreign to our conception of government and absolutely inimical to the best interests of the masses of the people, is to have the government insure fair treatment to the consuming public by private industry.

"If laws regarding private industry selling to the public are unenforceable, then representative government is showing its first breakdown. I don't believe that is true as yet.

"The next thing to do is to make it possible for private industry to meet the production costs of governmental agencies, and thereby furnish the commodity to the consuming public at the lowest possible price. This can be done if private enterprise is not weighed down by burdensome taxes.

Taxes Up 70 Per Cent
"Here in Ohio, our taxes have increased 70 per cent in the past eight years. In addition to that increase in per cent, the tax duplicates have been artificially increased almost 100 per cent. All this has happened during the period that the federal government has reduced her debt by 33-1-3 per cent, and reduced her taxes 200 per cent. Why should state cost of government constantly rise, and federal cost of government constantly decline?

"One of the biggest reasons, it seems to me, is that in the federal government we have had a harmonious executive and legislative branch, both of the same political party, working toward the same purpose, namely, a reduction in the cost of government, while in Ohio we have had an unharmonious legislative and executive branch, each trying to attain their own selfish purposes, irrespective of the cost to the taxpayers.

"No one would be interested in a private investment if the general manager and board of directors were constantly fighting each other as the governor and legislature have been for the past six years in Ohio.

Pledges His Efforts
"Now, what is the remedy? The first step in the remedy is to elect a governor and a legislature of the same political faith. They, then, can redistribute the taxes in Ohio in such a way as to more equitably assess the cost of state government on the entire tax duplicate.

"Industry is leaving Ohio now because taxes on industry in Ohio are higher than in neighboring states. Agriculture in Ohio is carrying a tax cost of from $2.50 to $4 an acre. One of the first and quickest ways to give Ohio agriculture some relief would be to lessen the acreage tax cost.

"Another thing that will give some relief in Ohio is to eliminate some of the waste in state government, abolish duplicated state functions, and get back to the old original simplification of government in Ohio. And if I may be pardoned before this group for making this suggestion, it is to that end I pledge my efforts if I am successful in attaining my ambitions this fall."

YOUNG SHOULDERS BEAR TROUBLES

This is the most recent picture of the child King of Rumania, Michael Ist, with his mother, Princess Helene, formerly of Greece. The recent troubles in his country have made little if any impression on His Royal Highness.

PART OF ROAD WASHED AWAY

Approximately 800 feet of the Ironton-Salineville dirt road has been washed away by recent heavy rains, according to a report filed with the county commissioners.

Property owners on this three-mile road are anxious to have the road graded, but at this time the Washington township trustees are not financially able to go ahead with the project to the Jefferson county line.

MEDINA FIRM GIVEN JOB TO SURFACE ROAD

The Millert-Weidner company, of Medina, have been awarded the contract by the state highway department for the concrete surfacing of the three mile stretch of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road in Fairfield township.

This is the last section of this road to be awarded, and its completion will mark the opening of the road between East Liverpool and the Cox highway on the north.

This company was low bidder on this project at $66,270.09. It has two other contracts in this county, the latter being the surfacing of the Lisbon-Salineville road from Grovers to the south terminus at Tidball Hollow where a connection is made with the Wells-Salineville road and also that section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown road between Williamsport and Rogers, the latter now being under construction, and about two miles already being completed.

Republic of Andorra, Now 650 Years Old, Issues First Stamps

Madrid, May 29.—It has only taken the republic of Andorra, 650 years to decide on issuing stamps, but at last citizens and visitors can send postcards with pretty pictures on them to friends and stamp collectors.

Hidden away in the Pyrenees Andorra enjoyed a placid existence as the smallest and oldest republic.

Markets

OPENING IRREGULAR

New York, May 29.—Stocks were irregular at the opening of the market today. Chrysler sold at 84, up 3 1/2, for 25,000 shares. Mack Trucks advanced 1 to 90. Packard dropped 1/2 to 74 1/2. General Motors rose 1/2 to 187 1/2. Dodge Bros. lost 1/2 to 18 1/2. The cills were about steady, with Standard Oil of New York and Marland Oil each 1/2 higher at 36 1/2 and 38 1/2, respectively. Consolidated Gas of New York slumped 1/2 to 152 1/2. Radio Corp. gained 1/2 to 200. Woolworth was up 1/4 at 187 1/2. International Paper up 1/4 at 75 1/2. American Can down 1/4 at 88 1/2. American Linseed down 1/4 at 99 1/2. New York, New Haven & Hartford was up 1/4 at 61, while Atchafalpa, Tepeka & Santa Fe lost 1/4 at 190 1/2.

In their effort to stem the tide of speculative selling, bullish forces in the stock market today stood squarely behind their speculative favorites. Chrysler Motors gave a strong "demonstration" at the opening, when a block of 25,000 shares sold at 84, compared with yesterday's close at 80, and an advance of nearly 50 points from the low of the year. General Motors and Radio made moderate advances in active trading in the first hour, but were under selling pressure in the second. The 6 1/2 per cent call loan rate announced near the close of Monday's session failed to precipitate any great volume of outside selling of popular stocks, and "margin protection" at the brokerage houses was sufficient to forestall the wholesale selling of stocks for traders unable to protect themselves. Bullish forces rallied sharply behind a number of their favorites, and the market on the whole gave a good account of itself in this period.

The call loan renewal rate was 6 per cent, but New York banks were not heavy contributors to the call market, but the non-member banks had plenty to loan at current high rates, and it was generally believed that the rate would not go above 6 1/2 per cent even in the month-end "squeeze." Business and industrial results were unchanged, with the tabulation of April net railroad earnings showing an 8 per cent decline from the same month last year. The motor stocks and the specialties monopolized the spot-light in this second period. Airplane stocks, after an early reaction, recovered the bulk of their losses. Commodity markets were irregular, with narrow price changes.

Latest Gas Engine Seen As Boon For Motor Industries

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—A gas engine, which its inventor, Morton Spence of this city, claims will revolutionize costs in the motor field and which will vitally affect initial building costs and upkeep, as well as boost efficiency, has been patented by the U. S. Patent office at Washington.

The engine, Spence explains, utilizes a radical new principle in the manufacture of internal combustion gas and steam engines. The specifications provide for a block structure in which a single screw shaft is utilized to connect the cylinder with the engine block proper. Whether the cylinders are removable, a common defect of present day engines, Spence points out, is that the throw of the crank causes a lateral thrust against opposite parts of the internal wall of the cylinder. Regrinding and reboring are done away with in the new engine, Spence claims.

Over-size rings and pistons are eliminated, making replacement costs only fractional. The new type engine, due to its lightness, will prove a boon to aerial engine builders, he declares.

WEST VIRGINIA AT POLLS TODAY

Hoover-Goff Battle Big Feature of Primary; Al. Against Reed

Charleston, W. Va., May 29.—West Virginians trooped to the polls today to settle one of the hottest primary election fights of recent years. On the Republican side Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover has invaded the state against Senator Guy D. Goff, the favorite son candidate. Nineteen votes at Kansas City are at stake.

Gov. Al Smith of New York is opposed by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri for the 16 votes to House.

In addition there are full state tickets up for nomination. This is the third state in which Hoover has fought a favorite son. He won in Ohio, but lost in Indiana. His backers claim West Virginia although a close vote is anticipated.

Today's election will wind up the Republican primaries. For that reason the results are being closely watched. A victory for Hoover would bring his total claimed, pledged and instructed delegates close to 500, not far short of the nomination.

Observers believed Smith will defeat Reed as he did in California and Oregon.

Six More For Smith

Washington, May 29.—Six additional votes were in Governor Al Smith's presidential column today.

Voteless Washington, in a Democratic primary yesterday, instructed 12 delegates, each with half a vote, to stand by Smith until the end at Houston. There were 7,439 votes cast.

The delegates include R. W. Bolling, brother of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Breckinridge Long, assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration, and Mrs. George T. Maive, wife of the ex-ambassador to Russia.

INDIANAPOLIS IS READY FOR RACE

Annual Memorial Day Classic Wednesday; 28 Cars Qualified

Indianapolis, May 29.—Indianapolis was thronged with visitors to the Memorial day 500-mile race as the last five contenders attempted to qualify for the long grind at the motor speedway track.

Twenty-eight cars had been qualified at the end of yesterday's try-outs when four more drivers earned places in the big speed event.

Before the contenders line up at 10 a. m. Wednesday for the long grind, more than 50,000 persons were expected to be guests of this city.

Two of the cars that qualified yesterday were made in Indianapolis. They were Duesenberg specials, one driven by L. L. Corum, which averaged 96.172 miles an hour, and the other piloted by Dutch Bauman at 106.226 miles an hour.

Earl Devore with his Chromilite special had reeled off the best time of the day at 109.810 miles an hour. Clarence Belt driving a Green special, made by the Green Engineering company of Dayton, O., with a V-type motor also qualified at a speed of 96.026 miles an hour.

Thirty-three cars probably will start the contest tomorrow there was every indication that the race will be one of the fastest on record. With fair weather predicted and in consideration of the unusual speed registered in the tryouts, most fans believed that the driver who takes the speed crown will have to beat the record of the late Frank Lockhart, fastest of all speedway winners.

RAT POISON IS FOUND IN WELL NEAR OHIO MINE

Bellaire, O., May 29.—"Rat poison" has been used in an unsuccessful attempt to cause the death of the new workers at the Webb mine near here, according to Col. Don L. Caldwell, Ohio National Guard officer and special investigator of Governor Donahoe.

It was believed that some persons, allegedly union-sympathizers, placed rat poison in a spring near the mine from which drinking water is obtained for occupants of the bunk houses.

Chemists at the state department of health will be asked to make an analysis of a quantity of water from the spring, it was said.

Bootlegger Slayer May Not Take Stand

Cincinnati, O., May 29.—Harold Nason, on trial for second degree murder in connection with the slaying of Harold "Gus" Fitch, alleged hi-jacker and bootlegger of Reading, Ohio, may not take the stand in his own defense, it was indicated today, because his testimony, given at the trial of Nathan Rosen, of Detroit, jointly indicted with Nason for first degree murder, was read to the jury here yesterday.

Nason is on trial in the criminal division of common pleas court here with Judge Stanley Struble presiding.

Rosen was acquitted by a jury last August after Nason's testimony had exonerated the Detroit man.

COURT REVERSES COPPER VERDICT

George Campbell Carson, Prospector, Seeking An Accounting

San Francisco, May 29.—Attorneys for George Campbell Carson, one-time picture show "desert rat," prepared here today to take his suit against the Anaconda Copper company back to a federal court for an accounting, following a decision handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals here in favor of the prospector who has waged a long legal battle against alleged infringements of his patent on a blast furnace.

Ruling that a federal court decision favorable to the Anaconda Copper company should be reversed, the appellate court rendered a verdict that affects indirectly infringement suits, involving some $20,000,000.

The blast furnaces used by the Anaconda Copper company, the appellate court declared, constitute an infringement of Carson's patent. Similar furnaces used by other smelting companies throughout the country are the basis of several other suits, brought by Carson and now pending trial.

NYE ASKS LAWS TO PREVENT ANY FUTURE SCANDAL

Report Given Congress By Chairman of Teapot Dome Probers

Washington, May 29.—Legislation to prevent a repetition of the naval oil scandals was recommended in a report to congress by Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the Teapot Dome committee.

Another report, by Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, summarized the committee's work in running down the Continental Trading company's $3,000,000 Liberty Bond deal.

Nye particularly emphasized the need for congressional supervision of all leases or transfers of naval oil reserves. He suggested also yearly accounting of all campaign expenditures and receipts in federal office contests, and a "tightening up" of the corrupt practices act to provide better tax collections and prevent delay of delinquent taxes.

"Tax evasions which have been uncovered by the committee show that the government must tighten up in these matters," he said. "Changes in the criminal code procedure are necessary to avoid delays such as hindered the activities of the senate committee here."

Walsh criticized the treasury for its long silence in the matter of collection of taxes due the government from the Continental deal and point out that expenses of the committee, which has turned up information resulting in the recovery of more than $2,000,000 have been but $14,165.

He concluded with a denunciation of those connected with the activities of the Continental company, characterizing it as a "contemptible private steal."

"It seems to me to have been the ill-gotten gains of a contemptible private steal, the speculations of trusted officers of great industrial houses, pilfering from their own companies, robbing their own stockholders," he said. "The share of the booty coming to one of the freebooters, serving in part as the price of perfidy of a member of the president's cabinet."

Auditor Walker To Speak To Farmers

E. E. Walker, of Damascus, and Mrs. L. R. Frederick, of Leetonia, will be the speakers at a meeting of the Butler-Perry Townships Farm bureau Friday evening at Willow Grove grange, southwest of Salem.

There will be readings and vocal and instrumental music and a lunch will be served.

Congress Adjourns Today As Senate Filibuster Wins

Vote to Adjourn Taken After All-Night Session Is Held Due To Opposition To The Famous Boulder Dam Bill

Washington, May 29.—The first session of the 70th congress ends at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Within an hour after the senate had adopted, 46 to 35, a resolution to adjourn at that hour, the house approved the adjournment by a vote of 175 to 9.

Washington, May 29.—Reversing its action of yesterday, the senate, after an all night session, voted today to adjourn the 70th congress at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Immediate adoption by house of the adjournment resolution is anticipated as the house had already voted to quit at 5 o'clock today.

The vote to adjourn was 46 to 35. The revised adjournment resolution was brought in by administration leaders after it appeared evident that Boulder dam supporters would not be able to break the filibuster conducted against the bill by the two Arizona senators, Ashurst and Hayden.

It was planned to make the Boulder dam bill the senate's unfinished business for the December session, thus assuring its adoption next winter.

An all night session broke down the resistance to adjournment rather than the filibuster. Senate leaders, weary and heavy eyed for lack of sleep, were determined to end the session, evincing that the filibuster would block a final vote whether or not the senate continued the debate for several more days.

Boulder dam opponents had held the floor continuously since 2:15 p. m. yesterday following defeat of the first adjournment resolution. The Boulder dam adherents, however, were assured of one victory—selection of their bill as the "unfinished business" for the session beginning in December. This will insure its passage next winter. The bill has already passed the house.

Switch In Voting
The vote astounded Boulder dam adherents, after their victory of yesterday, when Vice President Dawes broke a tie to vote against adjournment. A tremendous crowd jammed the floor of the senate and its balconies as the vote was taken. There was no outburst of cheering as occurred yesterday when the senate voted to keep congress here.

The wide difference between the 40 to 40 vote yesterday and the 46 to 35 majority for adjournment today was due to a shifting of senators favorable to the Mississippi barge line bill, which was passed late yesterday.

This caused Senators James A. Reed and Hawes, Democrats of Missouri to switch from opposition to adjournment to voting for the resolution. Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, did likewise, while the adjournment group gained three new votes, Senator Swanson (D) of Virginia, Ransdell (I) of Louisiana, and Schall (R) of Minnesota, who did not vote yesterday. The opponents of adjournment lost three votes which switched while Senators Howell (R) of Nebraska, and Kendrick (D) of Wyoming, failed to vote today, after opposing adjournment yesterday.

Second All-Night Session
The senate listened to an endless flood of oratory that began early yesterday afternoon and lasted throughout the night. It was the second all-night session held by the senate within a week in an effort to break down the Arizona filibuster.

Senator Hiram W. Johnson (R) of California, leader of the Boulder dam fight, however, announced he would oppose all adjournment moves and fight to keep the senate continuously in session until a vote was taken on the Colorado river measure. He predicted its enactment whenever a vote is reached and his predictions were borne out by the one-sided majorities recorded in favor of the bill whenever test votes were taken.

The filibuster meanwhile brought the legislative wheels of congress to a halt. It began at 2:45 yesterday afternoon when Senator Carl Hayden (D) of Arizona, took the floor. He was relieved for dinner by Senator Heflin (D) of Alabama, resuming the floor a little later and holding it again for hours. Senator Blease (D) of South Carolina, followed him.

Senator Henry F. Ashurst, Ariz.

DEAR FRIENDS:

Yesterday I applied for a job here at American Dry Cleaning Co.

Mr. Kent asked me if I knew anything about the dry cleaning business. I told him I had often heard about it.

Then he asked me if I could write ads! I said I didn't know I'd never tried.

He didn't ask me if I could run a locomotive or play the piano. If he had, I'd have told him the same thing.

I never wrote an ad. in my life, but I got the job! And now I suppose it's up to me to deliver or starve.

This is my opener. I won't try to talk shop this time because I can't. Next time maybe I can tell you something a little more interesting.

Pull for me! I'm going to need your help.

DONOHUE IS BACK
WINNING FOR REDS

Boston Loses to Senators;
Browns Defeat Chicago;
A's Lose, 11 to 4

By DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, May 29.—Those five out of six games in which the Yankees knocked the Athletics for a series of re-organizations, ending in Philadelphia yesterday, have just about closed the book on the American League race. Race? Pardon my lip. I didn't even mean chase. The American League today is sponsoring an endurance contest, meaning that the public will need a lot of stamina to stay with the situation much longer. To all intents, the New York Yankees have won the pennant in the first six weeks of the season and, if you think this is being a trifle premature, I can only commend your attention to the following:

Nothing except a victory for the Athletics in the series just concluded would have kept the American League problem within focus. The collapse of that club simply meant that the bottom had fallen out of the business and that the opposition, actual enough while the Athletics were losing only four games between April 19 and May 24, had become only a flimsy pretense.

Oddly enough, the Yanks are not the fool-proof outfit they were in 1927 and I don't mean that the contention is more flat headed, either.

The Tigers should be better, too, or at least as good as they were. The fact of the matter is that the contention can't hope to get anywhere with a club that wins, not only by the law of respective values but by ordination.

Boasting a lead of two full games over the Chicago Cubs, the Cincinnati or Natty Cincy Reds are coasting along in first place in the National League today with apparently every intention of staying there.

Donohue Gets Started

The Porky boys got a tough break on Sunday when Red Lucas, their star twirler, was hit on the wrist during batting practice and laid up for nearly a month. But this loss was nullified yesterday when Pete Donohue, starting his first game of the season after a long salary huddle, held the Cubs to five hits and chalked up a 2 to 1 victory. Donohue, always a good hitter, drove in the winning run.

An even better pitching performance was flashed by Walter Beck, former Tulsa twirler now sporting the livery of the St. Louis Browns. He limited the White Sox to a pair of hits and won a 2 to 1 verdict. Lu Blue got a homer.

The Browns clambered back into the first division, as the Boston Red Sox were whitewashed, 2 to 0, by old Tom Zachary of the Senators. A double steal by Goslin and Judge beat Ed Morris, star Boston rookie twirler.

The business of stopping the Yankees degenerated from a joke into a farce when the world's champions swamped the battered Athletics, 11 to 4, for the fifth time in the six-game series. For the second time in a week the Yanks vanquished Lefty Grove, once their nemesis. Dugan and Lazzeri each collected their third homer of the series.

The A's now trail the Yanks by eight games and Connie Mack is getting desperate. He has shipped considerable cash and two pitchers—Jing Johnson, a veteran, and Bill Shores, a promising rookie—to Baltimore in exchange for George Earnshaw, mound ace of the Orioles.

PROMOTER WAR OVER LOUGHRAN UP TO BOARD

New York, May 29.—The promoter's war over the services of Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion, was carried up to the New York boxing commission today with the title-holder's manager, Joe Smith, and Humbert Fugazy lined up against Tex Rickard.

Loughran was unable to be present as he is in Philadelphia completing his training for Pete Latzo, who will make his bid for titular honors in a 15-round bout at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, tomorrow night. Fugazy is staging that bout and also has Loughran signed to meet Leo Lomski in the same ring on June 13.

Smith has repudiated an option held by Rickard on the champion's services, and has steadfastly declined to sign a contract for Loughran to box Jimmy Slattery. The commission last week approved June 14 as a date for this match and Slattery is training for it. It is believed the controversy will end in a compromise with a new set of dates for Slattery and Lomski.

Meanwhile Latzo declares that Loughran won't be champion after tomorrow evening and that he will thus relieve Slattery and Lomski of the challenging burden.

en veteran lions of Sparks' circus nearly cost the life of John Guilfoyle, trainer, here recently when they started fighting to keep a lion out of their act. Guilfoyle in trying to rescue the new lion, was bitten and clawed severely. He is in a serious condition, but unless blood poisoning or lockjaw sets in is expected to recover. His home is in Philadelphia.

MEMORIAL CLUB BEATS DAMASCUS

Held scoreless for seven innings, the Salem Memorial playground baseball nine hopped on Calladine, star Damascus Quaker pitcher for six runs in the eighth inning to win 6-2, at Damascus Monday.

Damascus stepped in front in the second frame scoring two runs. Calladine held the Memorial muballers safely in hand until the eighth, when the Salem outfit found him for a flock of singles and walks, and scored six runs.

Vincent hurled a neat game for Salem, Damascus failing to bunt any hits in any frame except the second. F. Scullion worked behind the bat for the Memorials.

The two teams will meet again Monday at 5 p. m. at Centennial field. Tonight the Federals and Postoffice meet in the city league.

WALKER WINS IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, May 29.—Tony Marullo of New Orleans, middleweight today realized that Mickey Walker is a true middleweight champion. Walker easily defeated Marullo in the main bout of 10 rounds at the Olympic arena here before 3,000 fight fans last night.

Tony landed several good blows on the champion jaw but it caused no damage. Marullo suffered a split lip and a bloody nose.

Walker after sizing up his opponent in the first three rounds had things his own way the rest of the ten rounds. In the fourth he clouted lefts and rights to Tony's jaw and kept this up until the tenth, when he tried for a knockout but the man from New Orleans was game and was on his feet when the last gong sounded.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Cleveland.—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, outpointed Tony Marullo, New Orleans (10).

Maurice Holtzer, French featherweight, kayoed Harry Crisp, Cleveland (6).

At New Orleans.—Tony Canzoneri, world's featherweight champion, knocked out Claude Wilson, Birmingham, Ala., (1).

At Philadelphia.—Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, won Pennsylvania flyweight championship by outpointing Willie Davis, Charleroi, Pa., (10).

At Newark, N. J.—Phil Krug, Newark, outpointed Harry Martone, Jersey City (10).

At Englewood, N. J.—Jackie Shupack, Paterson, N. J., lightweight, drew with Tony Vaccarelli, New York (8).

Jerusalem, May 29.—A warning to tourists has just been issued by the American consul here, to beware of pickpockets even when visiting the Holy Places. The sanctity of the sites does not deter the light fingered from relieving unsuspecting worshippers of their valuables.

Two recent American victims were a woman tourist who missed a watch valued at $1,200 while at the Nativity church in Bethlehem, and a visitor to the Holy Sepulchre who had his wallet containing $300 in cash and important papers, "lifted."

AT THE GRAND

"The Legion of the Condemned," another screen story of the aviator, opened at the Grand last night. It is the war again. You cannot get away from that, but it is the war from an angle only touched upon in "Wings" and developed to a high degree in this story. A young American, a newspaperman, thrown together with members of an unattached flying unit at the front; men who have debts against society that can be obliterated only by an honorable death. They fight for the dangerous missions, making their deeds of valor the talk and envy of the fighting front.

It was only natural that Paramount would select young William Wellman to direct "The Legion of the Condemned." In the first place he was a member of the Lafayette Squadron himself during the War and there is little you could tell him about the flying of airplanes. Second, this is the young man who handled the megaphone on "Wings" and so there is very little you could tell him about the photographing of air pictures.

Further than that, the story is from the pen of John Monk Saunders, the author of "Wings."

In the leading roles are Gary Cooper, as the young American newspaperman turned ace, Wray, discovered by Eric Von Stroheim. Both turn in splendid performances. Other members of the cast are Barry Norton, of "What Price Glory?" fame, Lane Chandler, Vova George, Francis McDonald, Charlot Bird, Freeman Wood and E. H. Calvert.

AT THE STATE

Slices of New York's kaleidoscopic life where ambitions and personalities clash with dramatic results are said to be seen in Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture "We're All Gamblers" which is screened at the State. It is a story which shows Meighan in a new type of role, and it has been directed by James Cruze, maker of "The Covered Wagon" and "Old Ironsides."

Down on the crowded East Side where so many famous men, including Governor Smith of New York and Mayor James J. Walker, have fought their way upwards, a professional boxer on the threshold of a match for the heavyweight championship finds his career cut short by an automobile accident. The car is driven by a Fifth Avenue aristocrat who has been drawn there by idle curiosity. The virile boxer, Meighan, attracts her. With indomitable courage he fights his way upward to the proprietor of a night club. Again she meets him and again they fight against acknowledging their love for each other. The aristocratic beauty is played by Marietta Milner, a Viennese girl.

The story was adapted from Sidney Howard's stage play "Lucky Sam Carver."

Cruze has deftly brought out the highlights of an absorbing tale. In the supporting cast are many well known players: Cullen Landis, Philo McCullough, Gunboat Smith, Gertrude Claire and Spec O'Donnell, the freckled-faced redhead.

Not Lost, Just Mistaid
Household conveniences have affinities. Until we learn to place these friendly helpers side by side we will continue the exasperating hunts for them at the busiest times and to lose our temper at the same time. For instance, the flour sifter belongs in the barrel, or sack, or resting on top, not tucked away on a pantry shelf, or in some nested bowls.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, May 29.—Good wearable costumes that are easy to put on and easy to "carry off" are being shown for the summer holidays.

There are sober-colored jerseys, light woolsens and crepes combined with delicate colors and gay prints. The cardigan theme seems to be a favorite one. It is becoming to most women and so practical for a morning costume which might be carried over to the early afternoon.

There is a cardigan and skirt matching, with a blouse or bodice of more colorful fabric. The cardigan bound in a contrasting color is a popular feature.

The most wearable costume of the moment is undoubtedly the frock of printed crepe with a coat of plain woolen or jersey, nearly always lined with the same material as the frock. That even a Princess favors "wearable wear" was proved by the fact that Princess Mary, passing through Paris on her way home from Egypt, selected two of these ensembles for her summer wardrobe. One has a printed chiffon dress with coat to match the dress is a cerise floral design and the coat which is lined with the same print, in blue asperic, the new Rodier weave. Another is in chiffon with dark blue polka-dot and a deep blue edging.

A charming wearable costume has a perfectly plain jacket of white tussore with a waistcoat, and a skirt of black broadcloth with a narrow band of black satin down one side. There is also an almond-green jacket with black cuffs, collar and pockets, worn with a plain black skirt.

The string bag is one of the great kitchen needs with scissors hung beside it. When packages come from the stores it takes but a minute to roll the string over the fingers, make a loop with the end and drop it into the bag. If it is put in, in a tumbled mass it takes a time to unravel it just when you want to use it for trussing the chicken, tying up the roast, the laundry, or maybe the shoes that must go to be mended. A stout ball of twine should always be in the bag as well as the "donation string" as we call it.

Almost invariably the needle and thread is forgotten until we have our hands in the stuffing then we must wash up before we are through with a some member of the family to "go upstairs" and get it. A sewing box, basket or corner of a drawer should contain a suitable needle and coarse thread, and a white celluloid thimble. Wherever placed it should be an unwritten law they should not be disturbed except for legitimate use. In the kitchen tool box there should also be a box of corks of odd sizes. Tools after use should always be returned to the box and never laid down where used and left.

Saucepans, pots, covers and baking pans belong to the stove and as near it as possible. All cleaning powders, soaps, liquids, cleaning cloths, brushes, pans, housemaids, boxes and so on belong to the cleaning branch and must be in a closet or corner by themselves, not scattered about in odd places to have to hunt for each time they are needed. A bag of cloths and cloths hanging in a handy place in the kitchen, or cleaning closet, is at hand when needed.

New York—"A splendid idea," has been submitted to Mayor James Walker, State Senator Webb, chairman of a legislative committee on aviation, wrote him suggesting that "New York City" be painted on some prominent building. The mayor remarked that with such a sign aviators would no longer confuse this town Hohokus or Hong-kong.

"Never-fail" Recipe for Crushed Strawberry Jam

Once you have tried the new short-boil method of making jams and jellies with Certo you will discard the old tedious, uncertain way as an out-of-date piece of kitchen drudgery.

Ten glasses of the most delicious Strawberry Jam can be made by the following recipe quickly, easily and with perfect results every time.

Crush about 2 quarts of berries one layer at a time so that each berry is actually crushed or broken up to a pulp. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil, and prevents fruit rising to the top or floating. Best results are obtained by running berries through a food chopper. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into a large kettle, add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard from 1 to 2 minutes, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 cup Certo. Skim and stir constantly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire to cool slightly, which prevents fruit floating. Then pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot paraffin wax.

Certo is the natural jelling substance which has been extracted from fruit, refined and bottled so that perfect jams and jellies can be made without long boiling.

Recommended by a famous expert in cookery

Miss Alice Bradley, Principal, Miss Farmer's School of Cookery and Cooking Editor, Woman's Home Companion, says—

"I strongly advise all housewives to make all their jams and jellies with Certo because it's easier. Takes only one minute's boiling. Tastes better. No flavor boiled away. Better color—Not darkened by long boiling. No worry—Never fails to set. It's economical—Fifty per cent more from given amount of fruit and no waste from failures."

Get Certo today from your grocer. With each bottle comes a complete book of recipes for making better looking, better flavored jams and jellies the quick, easy Certo way.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and soreness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids; 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv

Prohibition Agents Will Be Given Distinctive Uniforms

Washington, May 29.—Prohibition agents patrolling public highways will be equipped with distinctive uniforms, Prohibition Commissioner James M. Moran announced today.

This important step, long advocated in congress, is a supreme effort to prevent unnecessary killings that have taken place as the result of agents stopping automobiles on the roads.

Doran declared that it is only natural that automobilists halted at night or on lone highways, by uniformed men, frequently of rough appearance because of hard duty of long days in the field, become suspicious and make an effort to escape.

Circumstances of this character frequently have led agents to fire on fleeing automobiles and in unnecessary casualties when the government men were mistaken for robbers. An agent at Huntington, W. Va., recently was discharged by the treasury department for firing into an automobile which fled after being accosted by the federal sleuth.

MILES may separate you from home, but you are only as far away as you are from a telephone. A chat with your wife and children comes as a genuine pleasure to you and to them.

The next time you are away let out-of-town telephone service keep you in the family circle. More and more people daily are doing so.

Just give the Long Distance operator the telephone number of your home, and usually she can make the connection while you hold the line. Nothing could be simpler and the cost is low. If you don't know the number, call the Information operator and she will gladly obtain it for you.

The cost of out-of-town telephone service is surprisingly low, as the rates on a few typical calls will show. For instance, calling by number during the day from Cleveland to Toledo costs only $.70; Cleveland to Columbus, $.85; Youngstown to Cleveland, $.55; Akron to Detroit, $.80; Canton to Pittsburgh, $.55; Youngstown to Philadelphia, $1.60; Cleveland to New York, $2.05; Cleveland to Chicago, $1.65.
